

Coolidge Pays Retiring Army Chief Tribute

Executive Announcement of Retirement and Gratitude Is Unusual Honor

NATION OWES THANKS

Conduct of High Command Brought Him Leadership of Forces in World War

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—John J. Pershing ends his 42 years of active service in the army at noon Saturday with a last signal honor paid him in the issuance of an executive announcement by President Coolidge expressing the nation's indebtedness for the service which won him leadership of the American forces in the World war.

Only in the rare instances of history in which a retiring officer has reached the highest rank has there been precedent for the honor conferred upon General Pershing in the executive order in which the president Saturday extended to him "a new the thanks of the nation for his eminent services." The president added that he felt "certain that I voice the sentiment of the entire citizenry of the republic in wishing him long life, happiness and prosperity in his retirement."

Citing General Pershing's arrival at the automatic retirement age of 64 years, the executive order, after reminding the country of its "obligation to one whose accomplishments contributed so largely to the defense of the world's liberties," reviewed his long career of military service.

The text of the order, which will be read to the army Saturday as a general order, follows in part:

"General John J. Pershing, general of the armies, having this day reached the age of 64 years, is retired from active service in conformity with a requirement of an act of congress approved June 30, 1932."

IN MANY CAMPAIGNS

"Entering the army as a commissioned officer after graduation at the United States military academy in 1886, he endured the hardships of the Indian campaigns then necessary for the pacification of the western frontier. In the war with Spain he participated in the Santiago campaign in Cuba. In the Philippine islands after their acquisition by the United States, it fell to his lot to assist in the suppression of the native insurrection and his remarkable success in bringing under control some of the most turbulent tribes is a matter of history."

"Becoming a general officer in 1906, he was entrusted with many important commands and when the unsettled conditions on the border of Mexico in 1916 made it necessary to send military expedition into that country, he was selected for its command. In exercising this command, as well as in the others that had fallen to him, he demonstrated his capacity for the highest military functions and his selection as the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in the World war was a natural consequence."

"His conduct of that high command fully justified the selection as well as his election to the highest rank in our military service which was conferred upon him permanently, under authority of a special act of congress, in recognition of his fulfillment of his country's expectations."

GETS NATION'S THANKS

"General Pershing has already received from congress the thanks of that body and of the American people, and now I extend to him anew the thanks of the nation for his eminent services and feel certain that I voice the sentiment of the entire citizenry of the republic in wishing him long life, happiness and prosperity in the retirement he has so richly earned."

"The retiring general of the armies lays down his burden of active military duty with the satisfaction of having witnessed as a culmination of the task to which he has contributed, here this week for stealing his father's automobile and later trading it in for another car."

HIGH VOLTAGE LINE KILLS TWO WORKERS

By Associated Press
Manitowish—Gilbert Anderson, 44, and Edwin Smith, 39, employees of this city, were killed Saturday, victims of electrocution when a dead wire which they were handling came in contact with a high tension wire carrying 33,000 volts at Rapids, one mile west of this city at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Both men are believed to have been killed instantly, although the bodies were not found until some time later when fellow workers missed the men at the lines. Anderson leaves a widow and one child. Smith was unmarried. The tragedy happened while the men were engaged in stringing wires of a feeder line to Collins, this county, from the High Falls plant of the Public Service company.

MUST PREPARE SO U. S. FLAG IS UNDEFEATED

Rooney Slaps Blaine Order to Guard in Defense Day Talk —Throng Turns Out

"I am an American and am going to follow the flag of our country as long as I have life to follow it, and I will turn back in the face of the man who sends out the order that forbids Wisconsin to wear the uniform of the army on this occasion," said Attorney Francis J. Rooney, principal speaker of the defense day program in the City park Friday night as he made an appeal to the citizens of Appleton to stand prepared.

Colonel Hugh Pomeroy, chairman of the committee in charge of the program, presided. Veterans of other wars were seated on the platform. Proceeding the program, patriotic societies and members of the Officers' Reserve corps, paraded on College-ave. The entire celebration was under the supervision of patriotic societies of Appleton. Several thousand people witnessed the exercises.

Attorney Rooney went on to say that he took his inspiration from his surroundings, from those grand old men who made it possible for us to enjoy liberty, justice and equality. There was no desire to shake the flag of militarism before the world, he said, but it was fitting to assemble to prepare so that our flag might never know defeat. If the integrity of the country is to be preserved, then all must contribute to the country's protection, he said. Constant vigilance is the price of liberty.

Kiangsu Military Governor Rushing Reinforcements to Chang Chow

By Associated Press
Shanghai—Rival forces of warring Chinese military governors battling for possession of Shanghai, disregarding their traditional rivalry, against fighting in the rain Saturday. What was rumored at Hwanctu 15 miles west of here, while that area was being soaked by a new storm.

The Kiangsu military governor was reported to be rushing reinforcements to Chang Chow, 120 miles from Shanghai to defend that town against the advancing Chekiang troops who took Iking Friday, according to a Chinese observer who arrived here Saturday from Chinkiang, 146 miles west of Shanghai.

The observer was one of three Chinese messengers dispatched from Anting, 20 miles west of here, to clear operations of the Kiangsu force. He succeeded in reaching Shanghai by steamer after viewing the invading Kiangsu army behind his lines.

A Japanese news agency here received a report Saturday morning from Peking, saying that the Mukden railway line had been closed to traffic. This was taken as an indication of impending warfare between General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator, and Wu Pei Fu, military leader of the Peking government.

The equipment of the Kiangsu troops was said by the observer to be superior to that of the Chekiang forces. He added that the Chekiang field guns and ammunition were faulty. An examination of a number of shells, he asserted, revealed a great proportion of "duds."

Red Arrow Veterans Meet Former Buddies

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Arriving by land and water, members of the 32nd Division, the Red arrow veterans of the World war, are greeting each other here Saturday in the fifth annual reunion, which closes Monday night.

Delegations from many of the larger cities of the state began arriving Friday night, while early Saturday incoming boats brought their quota of Michigan veterans, and a special train from Detroit brought 250 men.

Milwaukee is gay with colors Saturday which were used as part of the Defense day celebration and although there was not a parade of national guardsmen Friday plenty of parading is scheduled before the Red Arrow men leave town.

The regulation registration was scheduled for 8 A. M. Saturday and it was expected that this formality would bring together those who knew one another in fighting days.

Registration completed, water sports, a polo game and motion picture shows of "Les Terribles" will demand the attention of the men. In the evening a boxing show had been arranged for the more blood thirsty while those who are accompanied by

MOOSE GROWS FASTER THAN OTHER ORDERS

By Associated Press
Green Bay—The Loyal Order of Moose is increasing more rapidly in Wisconsin than in any other state, declared James Garrity, Milwaukee, district supervisor of the order, in an address at the dedicatory service of the new $75,000 Moose home here Friday night.

Mr. Garrity traced the development of the order in Wisconsin from its inception here about 15 years ago to the present time, when more than 12,000 Badgers are enrolled in the organization.

"A great Moose demonstration will take place at State Fair park, Milwaukee, on Oct. 5," said the district supervisor, "when 15,000 candidates will be initiated. This class will be assembled by lodges from all parts of the state, and on the date of initiation, a state-wide round-up of our forces will be held."

Fight Over Sweet Papa

Shoboygan — Miss Edith Ableman of Fond du Lac has brought suit against Gus Holman, well-known business man of this city for $50,000 damages in a breach of promise suit that indicates sensational developments.

Preliminary hearing was held Saturday morning before Court Commissioner A. C. Prescott.

Miss Ableman alleges that Mr. Holman promised to marry her May 13, and that the date of the wedding had been set for Oct. 5. On or about Aug. 15, she charges, Mr. Holman broke off their engagement. She had already made plans for the marriage.

Mr. Holman stated at the hearing that after becoming engaged to Miss Ableman he realized that he had acted too hastily, and rather than turn her down, "he told Miss Ableman that there was 'another woman.' He admitted having Miss Rose Meyer of Milwaukee write letters to Miss Ableman. "Gus is not your papa—he's my sweet papa," Miss Meyer's letter said. "You're getting old. You'd better find somebody else. Gus thought I loved somebody else, but I don't. I'll take him. You need not forgive him for his infidelity in the past. Just forget about this one. Gus says you're anxious to be kissed. Poor thing—30 years old!"

WORLD CIRCLERS START LAST LEG WHEN SKY CLEARS

Army Aces Hop Off from Bolling Field for Dayton, O., After Long Wait

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The army world fliers began the last stage of their journey Saturday, hopping off from Bolling Field here for Dayton, O., at 10:30 A. M. eastern standard time.

Weather reports indicating better conditions between here and Dayton prompted those in charge to order the planes into the air.

The planes circled over the city before straightening out on their path westward. Although the sun was shining, there were still clouds overhead and the pilots flew very low.

No ceremony attended the departure, the only officials outside of the field staff present being General Mitchell and Major Kilner, executive assistant to Major General Patrick.

The start was delayed more than two hours by adverse weather reports from the West Virginia mountains. The weather bureau at Moundsville, W. Va., sent frequent reports describing the steady rain and "low ceiling" which obtained there and Lieut. Smith decided against changing the fate of the expedition among the ranges under those conditions. It was recalled that Major Martin, who piloted the fourth ship in the original convoy, came to grief in just such weather. Later reports from Moundsville declared the clouds had lifted.

DAVIS TURNS EAST ON STUMPING TOUR

Democratic Presidential Nominee Speaks of Progressives in Cheyenne

By Associated Press
Abound the Davis Special, Enroute to Topeka, Kas.—John L. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, made the eastward turn Saturday in his tour of the west, having spoken at Cheyenne, Wyo., Friday night and there mentioned the third party movement as such for the first time.

He was headed for Topeka, where Saturday night he is to deliver the fourth fixed address west of the Mississippi river. In the mentioning of the third party movement at Cheyenne, Mr. Davis told his audience of several hundred persons, that he knew no one who contemplated the continuing of the Progressive party winning possession in this election of the presidency and of a majority in the house and in the senate. He submitted, he said, to those who wished to see progress and honesty in government that they have in his election no cause to vote any other than the Democratic ticket.

The declaration by Mr. Davis came at the conclusion of an address in which he had touched on the need for national defense and for preparation for peace, and contrasted the records of the administration of government under Woodrow Wilson and the Republican administration and had assailed the Republican administration on the oil and Veterans bureau scandals and presented his party's program for farm relief.

At the end of the parade which will be headed by Major General W. G. Hann, who is making his home in Milwaukee, memorial services for the Red Arrow dead will be held.

Monday will be used to complete the business of the reunion, such as election of officers and selection of the 1925 meeting place and a military ball will end the festivities.

Support was pledged to any legal action necessary to eliminate the practice. Copy of the resolution was ordered sent to Commissioner Jones.

Fate Of Democratic Ticket Depends On Smith Of New York

Democrats Fail to Agree on Candidate If Empire State Governor Refuses to Run Again.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by The Post Pub. Co.
(This is the first of a series of dispatches to be written daily until election day by Mr. Lawrence who has begun a 9,000 mile journey from coast to coast through virtually all the northern states to ascertain political sentiment.)

Syracuse, N. Y.—No better opportunity is usually afforded to get a line on Empire state politics than the state fair, especially on Governor's day.

The writer found the New York state political problem wrapped up in Governor Al Smith. "Oh whether he runs or not depends the fate of the national ticket of the Democratic party."

So the natural thing to do was to find out if possible from the governor himself what he intended to do. He was sitting in the grandstand presumably watching the trotting races but alongside him were Norman E. Mack, national committeeman and William H. Kelly, state committee, who engaged the governor in debate on the subject of whether he should run for another term. Messrs. Mack and Kelly ably defended the affirmative while the governor forcefully argued the negative.

Norman Mack beckoned and the writer was invited to join the discussion.

It wouldn't be proper to disclose what was said but even so a solution of the perplexing problem would be no nearer.

Conference Between Governor and University Chief Concerned State Geologist

By Associated Press
Madison—Reports that conferences between Governor Blaine and President E. A. Birge of the University of Wisconsin Friday related to the status of Prof. W. O. Hotchkiss, state geologist, were confirmed Saturday. Professor Hotchkiss held an extended conference with President Birge late Friday on the matter. Mr. Hotchkiss declined to make any statement Saturday morning, declaring that he is not in a position at this time to reveal any action proposed by Governor Blaine. It is understood that Professor Hotchkiss has been offered a position with a commercial firm and that he may tender his resignation in the near future.

Important changes in several other departments can be expected through action of the governor in the near future, according to official sources. Action may be directed against certain members of the state tax commission. It is said. Definite action regarding Mr. Hotchkiss also will be forthcoming, it is stated.

Is Silent As To Grim Death Scene

Former Appleton Man's Hearing at Oshkosh is Scheduled for Sept. 22—Enters No Plea in Court.

Harry Weigelt, Outagamie-co farmer who lived for eight months at 1030 Richmond-st., was formally charged in municipal court at Oshkosh Saturday morning before Judge A. H. Goss with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Tillie Weigelt.

A complaint sworn to by A. H. Gabbert, chief of police of Oshkosh, charged him with slaying and killing his wife. Weigelt asked to have the clerk read in a louder tone of voice, saying he could not hear. He was not asked to plead to the complaint. Judge Goss set Sept. 22 as the date for preliminary examination and held the defendant without bail until that time.

GRILLED BY POLICE

When put through a severe examination Friday at the police station, Weigelt stoutly maintained to Chief Gabbert and District Attorney Allen that he knew nothing of the manner in which Mrs. Weigelt came to her shocking death. He repeatedly declared he had nothing to do with it and asserted he was unaware that she was dead until so informed by the officials when they started to quit him.

He went to work Thursday morning at the plant of the Leach company, manufacturing contractors' machinery, and members of the family have declared he left home before the body was found.

QUESTIONED FURTHER

He was taken to the police office and locked up, but was not questioned until Friday afternoon. In the meantime he asked no questions as to the reasons for his detention and the authorities did not mention to him that his wife was dead until they were prepared to give him the first grilling.

After he had denied all knowledge of the hanging, he was returned to a cell. The police in the interim followed up any leads that may more clearly show whether it was a case of plain suicide or foul play, with an effort to conceal a crime.

BLAINE EYE A FEATURE

Certain features that have proved puzzling in the case have not yet been cleared up. One of the woman's eyes had been blackened as if from a blow. A man's footprints were noted near one of the doors of the shed. Blood was found on the face and in the hair, but the physician believes this came from the nose, after the corpse was taken down.

The couple had been having domestic trouble lately and the woman had contemplated a divorce. Weigelt asserted his wife had gone to a relative's home the night before the hanging and that he had not seen her in the morning when he went to work.

SON FINDS BODY

A son of the couple discovered the body at the end of a rope when he went to the shed to get some wood for breakfast. It is believed the mother had been dead for several hours then.

Mr. and Mrs. Weigelt and their children moved to Oshkosh from this city about December of last year, after living at 1030 Richmond-st. for eight months. Previous to that they lived on a farm near Appleton. Mr. Weigelt was here about a month ago visiting his former neighbors, after which he departed by automobile saying he was going to Escanaba, Mich. He intimated then that he had had trouble with his wife. Two of their daughters live here, Mrs. Lena Kiltzke and Mrs. Carl Ullman, the latter on a farm near Five Corners.

Tuttle Press Can't Keep Up With Orders

While many Appleton industries experienced a slump during the last few months due to a falling off in trade activity, there is one plant that not only failed to undergo a slowing up but has increased its production greatly and is obliged to work overtime to fill orders.

That plant is the Tuttle Press, which is garnering trade from many parts of the world because of the popularity of a new grade of crepe paper called Krinkle Krape. It is a variety with a silk finish and consumers everywhere have been demanding it because it is so much more desirable for use where paper napkins and such articles are wanted, according to E. N. Smith, general manager.

Australia and South America have been using large amounts of the Tuttle Press products but the largest single order from those countries was received about a week ago for two full carloads of plain and decorative crepe for Australia. This order came unsolicited and may result in greater trade promotion by the company in the region.

Overtime operation of the factory has been necessary since last June and is expected to continue for some time. Mr. Smith says. Production has been increased 25 per cent and the orders keep flowing in. The plant is four or five days behind on its shipments all the time. About two carloads of goods leave the plant daily.

The new Krinkle Krape has been responsible for this to quite an extent because jobbers all over the world have admitted the superiority of this product. A German paper manufacturer who visited here a short time ago declared it the finest quality he had seen in 30 years.

Keller Speaks

Gustave Keller, Sr., gave a talk on defense day before the students of Appleton vocational school at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. In many of the schools talks were given to explain the purpose and benefits of the day to the school children.

8-Inch Height For Skirts Is Fashion Now

Long skirts, short skirts, at the knees or on the ground they are all in style this fall, according to modistes and read-to-wear dealers of this city. The length of the skirt is determined by milady's wishes and her wishes are usually ruled by the type of person she is.

She may be tall or short or fat or thin and disregard those facts and simply insist that her skirt be a certain length because she believes it to be the style, dealers and modistes said, but such cases are few comparatively.

Eight inches from the ground is the average length of skirt this year, dealers agree. The type of dress too, has something to do with skirt length. The straight and narrow lined dress that fashion favors is longer than a dress with a fuller skirt. In the tunic dress the straight and full are combined, the tunic being shirred or flared and the underskirt straight and narrow. It is usually the small type person who desires her skirts shortest. The taller woman favors tunic dresses or the long waisted dress that detracts from her height. Waists are longer than ever this fall, dealers said, for people of course that can wear them that way.

The evening dress tends to be somewhat longer than the street dress, and the costume is completed with a high hair dress and ear rings. All sorts of material is used and ostrich trimming is especially marked for the fall of 1924. Plaids and more plaids and checks are fashion's favorites for this fall. Flannels of many colors and black satin are in demand.

THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE

The issue that overshadows all others raised by Senator La Follette in his campaign is that arising out of his proposal to place congress above the supreme court and the constitution. All of the other planks and complaints of the socialist-independent ticket are of small consequence in comparison with this. Mr. La Follette's cry about the supremacy of the so-called interests and their wickedness; the down-trodden farmer; the hopeless slavery of the American people, crushed under the heel of monopoly, is largely a state of mind. This alleged slavery is hardly to be reconciled, for instance, with the fact that there is upwards of 400,000 automobiles in the state of Wisconsin, that in nearly every state there is a car for every 5 to 10 persons. It is hardly borne out by the visible evidence of rural substance—homes, barns, silos, livestock, roads in the state of Wisconsin, where his doctrines are the most popular. It is not sustained by the remarkable progress labor has made for its improvement in the last decade. It is not consistent with the extensive financial undertakings organized labor is engaging in, such as the founding of large banks, trust companies and other institutions for labor's advantage. It does not square with ever increasing savings deposits and ownership of homes with modern conveniences.

Nor is it consistent with the growing betterment of relations between employers and employees and the rapidly increasing tendency of industry and commerce to share its gains in large proportion with the wage earner. The theory that the people of America are in economic and political slavery, that they are being ground down by monopoly and Wall street, is in the imagination. It is the harangue of the politicians, of the socialists, of the malcontents. There still exists, it is true, evils, abuses, defects, in our social, political and economic structures, but we are making headway in the rectification of them. We are striking at the sources of corruption, greed and exploitation wherever found. The radical and the discontented may not admit it, but these are the facts and every impartial and fair-minded person knows the facts.

There is not a single legitimate grievance entertained by any individual, class or interest in America which cannot be righted through the instruments and orderly processes provided by law and the constitution. Everyone knows that there is privilege in the country, that there are special interests who have benefited from government, but these privileges and favors can be taken away by the people over night through their representatives in congress if they so will. The beneficiaries of excessive tariffs are in this category. Tariffs can be reduced without overthrowing the constitution; monopoly can be broken up without destroying the constitution; dishonest public service, graft and other betrayals of public trust can be remedied without undermining the constitution; the farmer and the wage earner can be protected in their economic rights without uprooting the fundamental law of the land. All of these things may be done without revolution, without violence, either to government or the constitution.

Moreover, these wrongs and evils have been magnified tenfold and out of all proportion to their seriousness by political hysteria. We do not stop to count our blessings. We do not measure complaints against the solid virtues of our constitution, against the freedom, benefits and pleasures of life in these United States, against our tremendous national prosperity, against the multitude of acquisitions we have all made as individuals and as communities, against the peace and security and opportunity that exist throughout this land. Political agitation and strife will not let us.

The constructive side of American life is imperiled by the scheme vigorously urged upon the people to place the constitution at the mercy of congress. That is the supreme issue in this campaign, raised by the socialist-independent party. All other issues are of secondary importance.

DEFENSE DAY A SUCCESS

According to the news reports national defense day was a great success throughout the country despite the efforts in some directions to oppose it. Even in those states, like Wisconsin, where a foolish governor refused to cooperate, or where designing politicians sought to interfere with it, it was generally observed.

It is well for the United States that this is so. It demonstrates that we are not all mollycoddles and that we have not been misled as a nation by pacifist sentimentalism. The people of the United States stand ready to defend their lives, their homes, their institutions, their government. They are not slipping in this respect, notwithstanding the propaganda that would lower them to a state of weakness and indifference. They appreciate America and things American.

CHANGE IN MEXICO

The peaceful succession of Obregon by Calles as president of Mexico denotes a deep political change in the land of vast natural resources and multifarious revolutions. Although the succession is one of selective agreement among the leaders in power, and in that sense marks continuation of the Obregon power, there is momentous significance in the fact that the ballots were not bullets.

A precedent for quiet, orderly choice of president is established. Mexico can have fair selections, hereafter, without bloody disturbances if competition for public office is thrown open in the future and Calles does not attempt to pick the man to occupy his desk. It has been shown that Mexico can go through a political contest without turmoil.

Mexico is entitled to credit for this social and political advance. Mexico's troubles were due mainly to the lust for wealth. Politicians and capitalists exploited the rich ore and mineral deposits, the large estates, and the common people. Calles is to take office soon. Obregon goes to Europe for a brief vacation. There is peace in Mexico. The people are hopeful that Mexico will be theirs, and that there will be genuine development of liberty and opportunity.

AFTER BASEBALL

The baseball season, if the world's series is included, has still almost a month to run. But from the standpoint of public interest, particularly among lovers of sport, our national game will have a close competitor in football for the rest of the season. Will this team or that beat its ancient rival this fall? Who will lead in the western conference? Who will carry off honors in the East? These are questions which are shaping themselves today and which in the coming days will come more and more to the front.

From now on in increasing numbers moleskins and noseguards and headgear will be brought forth from dark closets and attics, where they have lain for the last nine months; tackling dummies will be rigged up; stalwart and husky youths will be given a careful scrutiny by zealous coaches; and within a week or ten days the lines of scrimmage will form on the gridiron.

It is the fact that the good player must be in good physical condition which has given football the value it has as a game. So long as it clings to the ideals of the physical and mental development of the participants, football is a game deserving of support.

This fall the seven wonders of the world will be Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

THE TIRED BUSINESS WOMAN

A business man who wishes to sell stock in a preoperative oil well to a medical sucker usually begins by telling the doctor that doctors are not seriously poor business men. It is with some diffidence therefore that I mention here the child-like ignorance and credulity of the average business man regarding matters of health. But if the business man is a bad case, the business woman is worse, for she has one formidable factor to contend with that the business man seldom encounters, namely, the advice of women friends. A tired business woman is in danger as long as her women friends are willing to gamble on her health.

Listen to this one:
Dear Sir:
A friend of mine has been told she has a cancer. An X-ray picture shows that it is attached to the ninth, tenth and eleventh ribs. It is in the left breast. She took the Abram electronic treatment and they pronounced her cured, she insisting (until she made herself objectionable) that the pains were still there—nevertheless they would not listen—so she called on a physician, and an X-ray was taken. This physician uses plasters, but inasmuch as the ribs are affected he promises but little in the way of recovery. My friend has concluded that she will have nothing done. She will take long walks and live on a raw fruit and raw vegetable, whole wheat bread and butter diet and keep body rigidly clean. She thinks as much will be accomplished as if an operation would be performed. Her vitality is wonderful, she is wholesome in appearance and has not lost a pound of flesh from the diet. She is of nervous, high-strung, temperamental but delicate she has never felt well all during her business career, that it has been just one long hard struggle.

Sincerely yours,
Miss
Has the woman a cancer? That is a question which ought to be settled definitely. If it is cancer, she is playing a desperate, foolhardy game, frittering precious time away with such absurd hokum as the Abrams humbug. Her friends probably led her into that gamble. Then when the Abrams quack has exacted his price from the victim she turns to the next most plausible charlatan in the business of exploiting cancer sufferers, the "specialist" who purports to dissolve, destroy or cause the "absorption" of cancer with oils, salves, plasters or pastes. Just consider the cruelty of it—if the woman really has a cancer which is "attached" to the ribs, think of the indescribable torture she would suffer, not to mention the danger to life, from any kind of caustic such as the cancer plasters, blind, inhuman uses. By comparison with such crude, blind, inhuman surgery as that, the "knife" is a heaven sent blessing to the cancer sufferer, for intelligent surgical attack is at least painless and devoid of the dreadful dangers which attend the use of plasters or pastes. If cancer of the breast is amenable to treatment, it must be early recognized and treated, either by prompt surgical attack or by surgery aided by X-ray or radium. The woman who harbors even a suspicion of cancer errs grievously by procrastinating. She owes herself if not her loved ones the duty to go at once to her physician for his opinion and advice. She courts defeat when she permits false modesty to delay the fulfillment of this duty.

The final course this tired business woman has decided on would be ridiculous were the issue at stake a trifling one. But if the mode of life she elects has anything to do with immunity to cancer she is adopting it rather late to profit by such immunity. There is no particular evidence, however, that ordinary meat diet or mixed diet or ordinary dirt has any relation to cancer.

MERELY MAIL

In days of old
When knights were bold,
And sheet-iron trousers wore;
They lived in pance,
For then a crease,
Would last five years or more.
In those old days,
They had a craze
For steel shirts, and they wore them;
And there was bliss
Enough in this—
The laundry never tore them.

About a year ago the above poem of Mrs. G. W., Kaukauna, was published in this column. Since then it has been copied by scores of newspapers and magazines. But imagine the audacity of some of the humorous periodicals when they begin to copy-right the poem and forbid republication!

Many a coat of mail has been purchased this fall from Sears, Roebuck & Co.

We can easily understand how the reporter jumbled the names of Dennis Meidam and Dennis Sexton in a report on the payment of inheritance taxes. Dennis Meidam was once a sexton himself at Riverside.

Charlie Dawes may never be sworn in, but we've heard a few labor leaders who have cussed him out.

Folks who find it hard to dodge autoes while crossing College-ave should take lessons from politicians who have had great experience in dodging political issues.

Autumn will soon be here. You can always tell that by the high price of overcoats.

CHIEF UP!

We are not naturally optimistic, but we do sometimes go out of our way to cultivate that spirit. We know those of you who have survived the scorching heat and irritable drouth of the past summer will welcome the news that we have an early, a long and an excessively cold winter ahead. All signs point in that direction. To wit:

Squirrels are already storing up golf balls for their winter food.

Moss is covering the north side of trees, only much more nother.

Crickets are multiplying faster than taxi speedometers.

Rabbits are already taking on a long coat of hare.

We now have quite a menagerie of campaign animals. Everybody knows what parties the elephant, the donkey, the camel and the bull moose stand for. But see! The bull moose has been metamorphosed into a bobcat. We wonder what it will be in its next reincarnation.

ROLLO.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Theoretically the Dawes plan's ineffect, but one practical detail remains to be tried out yet. Germany can't pay war damages unless she can sell bonds. Will anybody buy them? Two hundred million dollars worth will be put on the market Oct. 15. Eight per cent interest is promised, which is pretty good—if Germany pays it. But European government securities aren't as popular with investors as they were before the war.

DISARMAMENT

The Third Committee of the Assembly of the League of Nations, in session in Geneva, Switzerland, is discussing another disarmament conference. The members seem to think Europe will be a better place for it than America, because more convenient for the Europeans who may attend. At least that's what they say. In reality it's suspected they're miffed with America for insisting on meeting them as separate nations and not as a League.

THE FLIERS

At army aviation headquarters it's stated the service has tried to keep the "round-the-world flight's" cost inside $50,000, which is mighty cheap for such a performance.

The bills aren't all in yet and the total may be a little above the figure named, but not much. The cost of the navy's aid is extra, but if the warships hadn't been helping the fliers they'd have been under expense elsewhere.

ON THE DEMOCRATS

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Shaver's home life is ideal but their political relations are full of strife, friends of the family say.

That's how it happens that Mrs. Shaver saw her way clear to publish an open letter asking Charles W. Bryan to task for his anti-Defense Day attitude, despite the fact that this attitude was approved by John W. Davis, and despite the further fact that Clem is the Davis-Bryan campaign manager.

CHINA

Twenty warships—American, British, French, Italian and Japanese—are lying off Shanghai to take care of their nationals if near-by fighting among the Chinese slops over into the "foreign city." Foreigners really are in a smug dander but they might be in a lot if unprotected.

TENSE

Civilian politicians and the army leaders in Chile are involved in so bad a quarrel that the whole cabinet has quit. The situation is described as "tense." Revolution is in the air in several parts of Latin-America.

Snails Forecast Weather Well

Snails are extraordinary indicators of changes in the weather, and observers of natural phenomena give some interesting accounts of weather-wise snails. They do not drink, but imbibe moisture in their bodies.

during the rain, and exude it at regular intervals afterward.

A certain snail first exudes the pure liquid; when this is exhausted, a light red succeeds, then a deep red, next yellow and lastly a dark brown. The snail is very careful not to exude more of its moisture than is necessary.

The snail is never seen abroad except before rain. At that time it is found ascending the bark of trees and getting on the leaves. The tree snail is also seen ascending the stems of plants two days before rain; if it be a long and hard rain they get on the sheltered side of the leaf, if a short rain on the outside of the leaf. Another snail has the same habit, but differs only in its color; before rain it is yellow, and after it, blue.

Other snails show signs of rain, not only by means of exuding fluids, but by means of pores and protuberances; and the bodies of some snails have large tubercles rising from them before rain. These tubercles commence showing themselves 10 days previous to the fall of rain they indicate, at the end of these tubercles is a pore, and at the time of the rain these tubercles, with their pores opened, are stretched to their most to receive the water. In another kind of snail a few days before rain a large and deep indentation, beginning at the head between the horns and ending with the jointure at the shell, appears.

A few days before rain some varieties of snails crawl to the most exposed hillside, where, if they arrive before the rain descends, they seek some crevices in the rocks and then close the aperture of the shell with some glutinous substance; this, when the rain approaches, they dissolve and are then seen crawling about.

Q. Why is a hammar handle made smaller where it goes into the hammar than where it is grasped by the hand?—W. D. G.

A. The hammar handle is made large enough at the end to fit the hand, and is smaller near the head so as to be more elastic and lessen the jar to the hand.

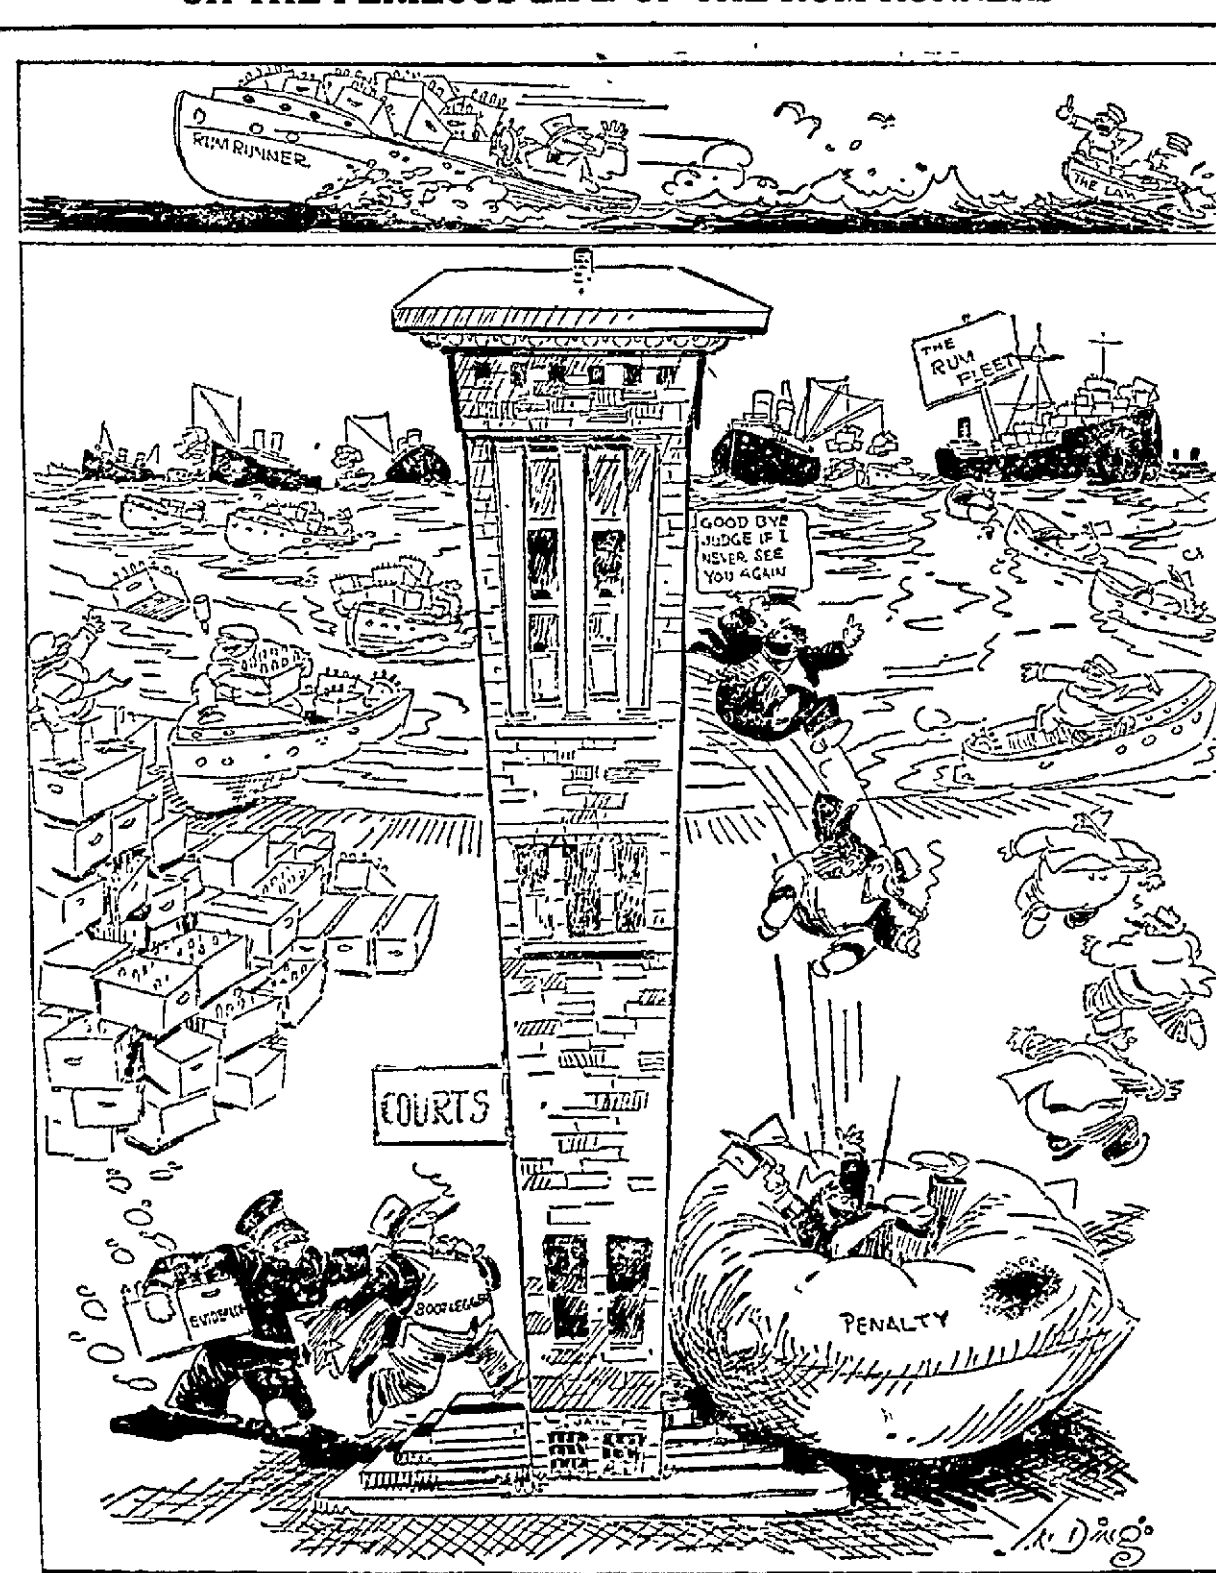

Q. Where is there a marsh whose water is saturated with sodium sulphate?—A. E. L.

A. The Geological Survey says that a salt marsh in which the water is composed almost wholly of sodium sulphate, is located west of Valmont, New Mexico.

Q. Is the author of "The House by the Side of the Road" still living?—W. M.

A. Sam Walter Foss, the author of the poem "Let Me Live in a House by the Side of the Road" died in 1911.

MRS. YOUNG ENTHUSIASTIC

Cannot Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Enough. Sick Women Read This Letter

Charleston, S. C. — "I was completely run-down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy enough to get up when I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your books and learned about it. I got benefit from the very first bottle. I continued to take it for some time, and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends that the change in my health is due to but one thing and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I cannot praise it enough." — Mrs. ANNIE YOUNG, 16 Amherst St., Charleston, S. C.

The reason for such a letter from Mrs. Young is apparent. She got well and is grateful. Recently a nationwide canvass of women purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made, and 98 out of 100 reported that they received benefit from taking it. Because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women is reason why it should help you.

Baby's Health

CHILDREN'S BUREAU, U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

TRAVELING WITH YOUNG CHILDREN

If a trip with young children is an absolute necessity it should be carefully planned. Berths and seats should be reserved in advance and accurate information as to leaving and arriving time of all the trains and boats concerned should be secured. The easiest child to travel with is the young breast-fed baby. The older, restless, bottle-fed baby presents the greatest problem. His milk should be prepared, boiled, and packed in ice before starting on the journey, unless powdered or condensed milk is used.

To sterilize, stand the filled bottles in a kettle over the fire and let the water boil about them for an hour and a half. After boiling, the bottles should be cooled as rapidly as possible and then chilled by standing them in a pail of cracked ice. They may then be packed in a small portable refrigerator. Many types of these have been revised and may be purchased, but a simple ice box may be made at home as follows:

Use two covered tin pails, one inch or two smaller than the other, so that it may stand inside the larger pail. Fill the space between the two with sawdust, put the bottles with cracked ice in the inner pail; cover both tightly, and make a canvas or flannel cover for the whole. For 24-hour trip, milk may be carried in a vacuum bottle if desired. The milk should be boiled, then thoroughly chilled before being put into the bottle which must be thoroughly cleaned and scalded. Each feeding bottle must be filled and warm as needed.

To warm the bottle for the baby, the mother should provide herself with an enameled ware pitcher holding a pint, which the porter will fill with hot water from the dining car. Stand the bottle in it to heat after the water has cooled a little so that the sudden heat will not be sufficient to break the bottle. A bottle warmed with a small stove heated by solid alcohol may be safely used on a journey. A metal tray should always be used under the lamp.

Dry milk is satisfactory to use for travel. A separate bag or basket lined with rubber sheeting should be provided for the diapers, and with them may be packed a small enameled chamber. For a young baby a number of inner pads of soft paper or old cloth, which can be destroyed, should be provided. When one of these is soiled, wrap it in newspaper and destroy it. Wet diapers may be tightly rolled and kept in the rubber bag.

In the hot Summer weather, for a long journey, the older baby should be dressed only in the sleeveless gauze shirt and diaper, with one thin outer garment. A short-sleeved, low-necked slip of white China silk is cooler than cotton, sheds the dust, and can be washed out in the basin when soiled. Warmer clothing should be at hand to slip on at once if the day suddenly cools.

It is well to change the baby's clothing as soon as the journey begins in order to have the regular outfit clean to put on when leaving the train. The little baby may go barefooted, but an older child should have barefoot sandals to protect the feet from the cinders scattered over the floor.

The usual regular hours for feeding the baby should be observed. Mothers sometimes give the baby cakes, bananas, sweet crackers, and the like, to keep him quiet in the train. Irrregular feeding with unsuitable foods, together with the fatigue and excitement of traveling, are very apt to make the baby irritable if not actually ill.

If any mother with a baby under one year of age has not received a copy of that beautiful and authoritative book, "Baby's Health" call upon the Appleton Post-Crescent, or any members in Appleton of the Baby's Health Association and a copy will be given free.

General Tire Firm Increases Factory

The General Tire company, Akron, O., has begun construction of three additional wings to its factory. Just a year ago General added three factory wings, to take care of the growth of the demand for General tires, and a month ago a new powerhouse was placed in operation. Orders have increased so steadily, however, that it has been found impossible to take care of present business and future growth without still greater production, hence the new work that is now being started.

The additions will increase the factory's capacity about 50 per cent. The cost of the improvements will be about a third of a million dollars.

STOP-GO SYSTEM READY TONIGHT

The system of automatic "Stop" and "Go" signals which is being installed at the corner of Oneida-st and College-ave probably will be in operation by Saturday night. The lights were installed Friday but the wiring was being completed on Saturday.

A signal has been placed at each of the four corners of the intersection. They have been installed on the far side of the street, rather than the near side, because that will bring them directly in the path of the automobiles and will be more readily seen. When the red light flashes it is the signal to stop; when the green light flashes it is the signal to go.

Smaller lights will signal in rotation every five seconds to inform the motorist and pedestrian the time remaining in which to cross the street before the traffic change is signaled. Traffic will change every 30 seconds.

In the woods by Pierre, a tool of Captain Eric Skag, while Jones was bringing his prisoner to headquarters. Pierre used the deadly garrote on Jones, but easily overcame Hayden, who was recently blinded by a powder explosion in his cabin.

This is one of the thrilling situations in "Blind Circumstances," which comes to the New Bijou Monday for one day, starring George Chesbro and an eminent cast. The story is laid in the snow country of the northwest, where the series of George Chesbro productions have taken place.

A peculiar trick of fate throws Bill Jones and Dick Hayden together and makes them strong friends. When Jones learns Dick's right name he knows that he will have to arrest him as Dick is wanted for the murder of Amos Clark. On his return with Clark he is attacked by Pierre. They manage, however, to make their way to the settlement, and Clark grants Dick's wish that he may see Ruth before he is taken in. Ruth recognizes in Bill, the Amos Clark whom Dick was supposed to have killed, and it develops that after the quarrel in the dark that Captain Skag's men came along just as Clark was coming to, slugged him and Clark lost his memory.

Quality Gives This Car Distinction
There is a solid, sound quality element about the Rickenbacker, that appeals to conservative, substantial people.
We are informed that this quality element alone, which is present in every part, piece and pattern of Rickenbacker, is very often the determining factor which influences careful buyers to select this carefully made car.
Wherever you find people of good judgment—people who are accustomed to the best things in life—you will find Rickenbackers in goodly numbers.
Folks have a feeling of security in choosing the Rickenbacker. They know their hard-earned money is well invested. They are assured of complete satisfaction. They experience a warm Pride of Ownership.
Then Rickenbacker is such a sweet car to drive. So sensitive to your slightest touch. Also remarkably economical on gas, oil and tires. It performs so consistently—and is so reliable and trustworthy under all circumstances.
Mechanically the car is perfectly balanced—has an endless list of engineering refinements—is harmoniously proportioned—and finally is so good to look at.
Rickenbacker is a family car—yet thoroughly modern—very modish and almost magical in performance.
Either the Vertical 8 or Famous 6 are light in weight—and light in price. Also easy to steer—and easy to purchase, for we will gladly arrange a series of payments, if you so desire.
Phone in today—let us demonstrate at your convenience.

FORTY MOTORISTS HALED INTO COURT DURING AUGUST

All But Four Answered to Charge of Speeding—Court Revenue $997

August was another busy month for the motorcycle officers, for 40 motorists were convicted under the county motor vehicle ordinance, of which 38 were speeders, two drivers of cars with open mufflers and two drivers of cars with insufficient lights.

Under the city ordinance Judge A. M. Spencer fined six motorists for speeding, one for driving a car with an open muffler, one for violating the arterial highway ordinance. Other fines were levied for dumping garbage in a ravine, one for selling wares on the sidewalk and one for indecent exposure.

In addition to these convictions the municipal court sentenced four vagrants to jail, two drunkards to the workhouse and two to jail. Two men arrested for driving while drunk paid fines of $100 each, which is the limit for this offense. Other convictions were for adulterating milk, conducting a dance hall without a license, abusive language, issuing bogus checks and resisting an officer. Three men were sentenced for assault and battery.

As a result of all these court activities, revenues for the month amounted to $997.38, of which $367 was for fines turned over to the county, $505 in fines for the state and $75 in fines for the city. Court costs and sheriff's fees amounted to $202.67, while officers fees under the city ordinance amounted to $35.05.

$15,000 LOANED FOR NEW HOMES

Fifteen thousand dollars was loaned for five new homes at the meeting of the board of directors of Appleton Building & Loan association Thursday evening at the office of George H. Beckley, secretary, Insurance bldg. Application was made for $17,600 for eight new homes, but the directors were unable to loan that amount because of lack of funds.

The total amount loaned by the association so far this year is $127,000 which is greater than the total amount loaned during the entire year of 1923. Loans during the five years of existence are approximately $550,000.

The secretary was instructed to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin League of Building & Loan associations at Northland hotel, Green Bay, Oct. 15 and 16.

PHONE INCREASE ASKED IN 7 CITIES

Appleton Only One Place Where Commission Will Have Hearings

As Appleton is among the seven stations for whom the Wisconsin Telephone company has filed rate increase requests, the city will be affected by the extensive investigation of telephone rates which the state railroad commission will begin within the next two weeks. The inquiry probably will assume considerable proportions because of the numerous applications pending for increased rates.

The telephone rate situation came to the front recently when half a dozen increase applications were filed by the Wisconsin Telephone company. This resulted in reports from the commission that the action may be a move for a general statewide increase. Communications were had with other railroad and utilities commissions looking forward to a conference to oppose general increases.

Besides Appleton the Wisconsin Telephone company has filed rate increase requests at its Hudson, Green Bay, Janesville, Lima, Center and South Milwaukee stations. Applications also are pending from several independent firms.

No definite dates have been sent for the telephone hearings but they will begin about the middle of the month, under present plans. The hearings will be conducted at the towns affected and extended investigations of local conditions will be made at each place.

FIVE MORE GOING TO LEGION MEETING

Four more members of Oney Johnson post are planning to attend the sixth national convention of the American legion at St. Paul Sept. 15 to 19. They are Clark Goodland, Dr. W. J. Frawley, Herbert Boettcher and Raymond Petersen. Mr. Goodland will be accompanied by his wife.

This brings the Appleton delegation up to about 20. Others wishing to attend may learn of the arrangements from Peter Goerl.

Not Necessary To Call Rural Operator Any More

Rural operators will belong to the past as far as local subscribers of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. are concerned. A change in the operating system of the company makes it unnecessary for the subscriber to call the rural operator.

By the new method the rural number is given to the local operator in response to "Number please." She will connect with the rural operator repeating to her the number that the subscriber is calling in this way, adding at the same time the telephone number of the person calling.

For example, a person wanting 9715 J2 simply gives this number to the operator who asks for it. She in turn will repeat it to the rural operator with your own, saying "9715 J2, 543," or whatever the calling subscriber's number is.

It is believed that this method, which went into effect the end of last week, will be more satisfactory than the old one.

Rural telephones keep three and sometimes four operators busy throughout the day. The rush hours on rural lines, however, are from about 6 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Rural operation is somewhat different from the local. If a farmer-to-farmer call the operator has no means of knowing when the party has finished talking. She must connect in and if she hears no voice, disconnect. She also has no sign by which she can tell if the person on the rural line has answered and will say to the party calling, "Do they answer?" If an affirmative answer is given the operator will inquire if you are waiting for someone who is being called, merely by the word "waiting." Night service requires only two operators working at one time.

This new method of operation does not in any way affect the numbering system of the rural lines. Twelve and fourteen subscribers on one line make it very difficult for any one to have the quickest service. The expense of a private rural line makes it difficult for many farmers to have one. The number of private rural lines is extremely small.

FAIR DRAWS 20,000 DESPITE DAMPNESS

By Associated Press
Chippewa Falls—Prevented Thursday from setting up a new attendance record because of continued rain the Northern Wisconsin State fair will come to an end Friday evening after one of the most successful showings in its history. Despite the rain Thursday the attendance was close to 20,000.

New records were set up in the amount of agricultural products exhibited and the number of stock entries if not in attendance. The greatest assemblage of cattle brought together this year at any fair except the Minnesota state fair competed for the hundreds of ribbons offered.

700 New Owners Gained in Ten Weeks by Appleton's Big Gas and Electric Utility

During the past ten weeks Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co. has sold close to $400,000 of the $500,000 issue of 7% cumulative preferred shares placed on sale June 16. The shares have been bought by 470 men and 230 women, most of them residents of the fifty-one cities, towns and villages for which the company supplies electric, gas, street railway or bus services. When the last of the $500,000 issue is sold, this month, the company will have gained around 900 new preferred shareholders, most of them regular customers of the business.

The shares are sold with the approval of the Railroad Commission to pay for additions to the company's income-producing public service property. The price is $100 a share, payable all cash or $5 down and $5 a month per share. Buying either way, you get 7% income on every dollar invested. Cash dividends of $1.75 per share are paid, by checks mailed to shareholders, on March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1, each year.

The company supplies electric service for Appleton, Advance, Angelica, Apple Creek, Bear Creek, Binghampton, Black Creek, Bonduel, Briarton, Cecil, Combined Locks, Dale, Darboy, Dundas, Fremont, Galesburg, Gillette, Green Valley, Greenville, High Cliff Village, Hilbert, Hofa Park, Hollandtown, Hortonville, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Laney, Lanstad, Little Chicago, Mackville, Medina, Menasha, Moaling, Neenah, New London, Nichols, Pulaski, Pulsifer, Readfield, Roselawn, Seymour, Shawano, Sherwood, Shiocton, Stephenville, St. John, Sugar Bush, Twelve Corners, Underhill and Valentine. It supplies gas service for Appleton, Neenah and Menasha, and transportation service for Appleton, Combined Locks, Kaukauna, Kimberly Little Chute, Menasha and Neenah.

The business is permanent, prosperous, growing steadily year after year. It is closely associated, under the same common stock ownership and management, with Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co., Wisconsin Gas & Electric Co., Milwaukee Northern Railway Co. and other utilities in the North American Company group, the largest and strongest group of public service companies in Wisconsin.

While they last, these shares will be on sale at the company's offices in Appleton and Neenah, and at the Securities Department of the associated companies in Milwaukee. We recommend the shares as a safe income investment for idle money, and as a safe way to get 7% interest on current monthly savings. Call, write or telephone and let us send a Circular or a salesman with full details.

EASY to run and clean to handle—that's the truth about every factory-installed and guaranteed HOME Furnace—

And that's the reason why hundreds of HOME users who have to be away during the week are enthusiastic about the HOME.

The wonderful, breast-high shaker lever and easy-working grates; the big combustion dome that catches all the heat; the ample firepot in which a big, slow fire will burn for hours without attention; and the wonderful damperless hot blast ring and door that supply superheated air direct to the fireline—

All these and many other advantages help to make the HOME so remarkably easy to handle. The air-tight fire door is of ample size; and it's easy for any one who can shovel coal to care for the HOME.

Then, too, the HOME lightens housework in other ways. It burns all the fuel. Result, heating surfaces and chimney flues clean; no smoke or soot in the house; expensive decorations and draperies preserved; and a big saving in backache and tired muscles.

Every HOME Hot Blast Furnace is installed by experts direct from the factory where it was built. Complete heating satisfaction is therefore guaranteed by the factory. Our five-year heating bond warrants the faithful performance of every HOME Furnace—let our local factory branch tell you about it.

Our free booklet entitled "Keeping Comfy While Dad's Away" describes other HOME comfort points. Write for your copy.

CALL TROOPERS TO GUARD PRISONERS

Manila.—Military authorities in the Philippines department have recently discussed tentative plans for the gradual concentration of United States forces in the islands of Fort McKinley and Corregidor Island. At present the United States troops are garrisoned at seven widely separated points, and the plans under discussion included abandonment of five of these forts, including Fort Santiago, Manila. Camp Stenberg, 60 miles north of Manila, Pettit Barracks, Zuboagna, and Camp John Hay at Baguio.

Camp John Hay, which is 5,000 feet above the sea, under the proposed plan, would cease to be garrisoned by troops but would be retained as a convalescent hospital. Fort Santiago, situated within the old Walled City, is now department headquarters and in event of its abandonment by the United States would probably be turned over to the Philippine constabulary as headquarters.

The Fort McKinley reservation is composed of more than 2,000 acres about five miles from Manila on an elevation 100 feet above the sea. On Corregidor Island are the fortifications which guard the entrance to Manila Bay.

Lanchester Balancer Adopted by Willys-Knight is Acclaimed

Automotive engineers and mechanical experts are impressed by Willys-Knight's new refinement, the Lanchester Balancer, in eliminating vibration. Read these comments.

Glenn Curtiss
Famous Airplane Inventor
"It is surprising. I drove the car (Willys-Knight Sedan) at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour and found absolutely no vibration."

W. E. Best
Works Manager, Remington Cash Register
"The smoothness of the motor was a revelation. The driver increased the speed from 15 miles an hour to approximately 45 miles and, as far as I could detect, with no vibration. It would seem that the balancer is doing the trick and gives six-cylinder operation as far as smoothness is concerned."

Hiram P. Maxim
President, Maxim Silencer Company
"The Lanchester Balancer certainly takes out the vibration. It makes the motor smoother than most of the six and eight-cylinders on the road today."

Maurice Olley
Rolls-Royce, Production Manager
"From the demonstration there is no doubt that the elimination of the inherent harmonic vibration, by means of the rotating balancer, has been attained in practice to a degree which is very satisfactory to the passenger."

Willys-Knight scores again. To its famous sleeve-valve engine, that improves with use, it adds a perfection long sought by many motor cars—the elimination of vibration.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON

DEAR RUTH:

Well, here I am in the bosom of my family, and one of them at least seems absolutely a stranger to me.

My dear, my dear, those pearls have bobbed up again.

Although Karl has given Alice a magnificent string which cost a hundred thousand dollars, I have reason to believe that she covets mine as well. The other night she and Karl and I were sitting alone at a restaurant table. Alice had made such a fuss about her pearls that out of sheer perverseness I put that string of mine on. The moment her eyes caught them, a peculiar look came on her face, and she said in a rather tight-lipped manner to Karl:

"Karl, dear, now that I see Leslie's pearls, I think they are more beautiful than mine. Of course her string is not as long, but the pearls seem of better quality."

Karl looked very uncomfortable, and I tried to change the subject of conversation by saying:

"Did you and your friend, Betty Stokely, ever finish that novel you were writing?"

"No," she answered. "Betty, you know, married a title, and you got in such a mixup with your pearls that I didn't dare write it up for fear John would find out."

"Any time you want to sell your string, Leslie, I'm quite sure Karl will repurchase them for me."

"I couldn't think of it," said Karl hastily. "You know, of course, Alice, that if you want another string of pearls I shall be glad to buy them for you, but that string that Leslie has on is concerned with associations only for her."

Alice looked furious, and Karl miserable. For a moment I wished that I could throw my pearls at her. I have never worn them that they haven't brought me some annoyance or ill luck.

Nothing more, however, was said about them during the supper, but when I got to my room that night, Alice came through the connecting door. She looked gorgeously beautiful in a pink chiffon velvet negligee, but there was a frown on her face and she fairly towered above me.

"Leslie," she said, "I've come to ask a favor of you. I want you to give me that string of pearls that Karl gave you, for my wedding present."

I must have looked surprised at her request, for she continued:

"I don't care if Karl asked you not to give them to me. I don't care if you do think I'm jealous of Karl. I am not happy when I see his pearls about your neck and know that he bought them one by one over the long years that he loved you, while mine, though perhaps more expensive, was the ordinary gift that a man who had plenty of money might make to some woman who wanted them."

What shall I do, Ruth? Shall I give them to her?

LESLIE.

SUNDAY'S GAMES
FOND DU LAC AT APPLETON
(doubleheader)
Green Bay at Oshkosh.
Menasha at Sheboygan.

Appleton and Fond du Lac will clash Sunday for the first time in the second half of the season when the Cards and Papermakers play a post-poned game and another tilt on the regular schedule. The Cards have defeated the Papermakers in the early part of the season, and although the Redlegs have won but one game since that time, they are looking for another victory Sunday. At the same time the Papermakers are determined to wipe out the sting of their previous defeat, and it looks as though the games will be extremely interesting.

Jones and Stack will do the mound work for the opening teams in the opening tilt, but it has not yet been decided who will replace them in the second half of the twin bill. Dave Smith, Appleton manager, will try out a number of new players in one of the contests, with a view to selecting home talent for next year. He has made no definite choice as yet with the exception of Al Gosha, who is down on the cards to play in both games.

After Sunday's games, there are but two more tilts on the Appleton schedule, both of them with Oshkosh. As is the case Sunday, one of the games is postponed one, while the other is the last on the program. The regular contest is scheduled for here, but until T. E. McGillion and the Oshkosh and Appleton directors reach an agreement it will not be known where the games are to be played.

If the weather is favorable, a large crowd is looked for at the double fight with Fond du Lac. Faris has developed an outfit of fighters this year, and although they have lost most of their tilts, the games have been among the closest and most interesting played in the loop.

The opening contest will be called at 1:30 and the price of admission for both games will be the same as for one.

BADGERS EXPECT RECORD GRID GATE

Madison—Advance applications for reservations for Wisconsin football games this fall promise to break all previous records, according to Badger athletic officials. Already the applications are nearing the 40,000 mark.

Jowa, playing the annual homecoming clash for the Badgers, is proving the main drawing card, easily outclassing other contests scheduled at Camp Randall. Notre Dame, expected to be one of the greatest feature contests of the season, is drawing heavily also. The Minnesota game is proving less attractive so far for old grads and former students.

1924 Race In Majors Is Record

New York—Every baseball season brings something new, something different. And the 1924 campaign isn't apt to be an exception.

As the two major leagues swing into the final stretch at least four unprecedented facts loom possible. One of these is the possibility of the Giants coping the National flag four years in a row, a trick never before accomplished in the big circuits.

Another concerns Washington. The Nationals have yet to win their first pennant. Should they come through this season they will have added another unique feat to baseball history. Then there are the White Sox. Evers' boys are groping about in last place. Unless they perk up a bit within the next few weeks, Chicago will likely see its first cellar team in the history of the American League. Outside of the White Sox and the Detroit Tigers, no other club in the Johnstown loop boasts a non-cellar team. Both of these outfits have slipped as low as seventh but have yet to finish the season in the basement position.

Should the Yankees cop the post-season, it will be the Giants, providing the McGraw gang wins, in grabbing four successive flags. And if both New York clubs come through it will

IRONWOOD LEGION GRIDDERS CLASH WITH GREEN BAY

Invaders Seek Chance to Gain Glory by Defeating Strong Packer Eleven

Ironwood, Mich.—Saturday morning, bright and early, some twenty hustlers, members of the Legion football team, pulled out of here for Green Bay. And with them go the hopes of Upper Michigan.

For several years, Ironwood has disputed the claims of the Green Bay Packers to the professional football championship of the Northwest but the two clubs have never met on the gridiron. This fall Manager Reid has set little time getting a place on the Packers' schedule and Sunday's game will be Ironwood's chance to win a place on the football map with big letters.

BEAT SUPERIOR 26 TO 0
The Legion team walloped Superior 26 to 0 in the opening game of the season last Sunday. Coach Denfield has had his pickskin warriors stepping along a heavy clip for about ten days and they are indulging in daily workouts with the high school squad.

This year's Ironwood eleven is an "all time" team. In their words, all of the players are staying in Ironwood during the football season. "The importation of stars, who come in on Saturday night and depart after the game on Sunday has been abolished. The Ironwood players practice every day and the squad is being moulded to a splendid machine.

STARS IN LINE UP
Manager Reid started to get together his aggregation early in the spring. One of his first moves was to sign a trio of college footballers, namely: Benton of Michigan and Sanderson of Wisconsin, ends and Sid Eaglesburger of Wisconsin, half back. Cronin, a former Packer backfielder, and Bob Marshall, veteran colored end, who played with Hibbing last season, were added to the battle line.

DENFIELD IS COACH
Denfield, who was an all American (Walter Camp's selection) when playing with the Navy, is coaching the squad and also passing the ball at center. Buck Harris, from Syracuse, is the full back. He has played with Duluth for the past two seasons.

Mason, a former Minneapolis Mariner star, is another star backfielder with the Legion. Eden of Michigan, Leckman of Michigan and Holman from Stevens Point, Normal are also capable players behind the line. There is a raft of line material including "Peaches" Nadolny, former Packer and Bill Dear, a strapping 300 pounder from Rutgers, Caldwell, a veteran from Valparaiso and Gerlach and Garsky, a trio of Ironwood products are tackles above the average. Gardner Heli, Harrington, Ed. Donald and Mike Rits are mighty good guards.

ROD AND REEL
M. J. V. FOSE

"SKITTERING"
Undoubtedly when you have visited some lake some time or other you have noticed some "old fellows" that make their home along some of these lakes drifting around some of the picket lines and work the little greenback back and forth with short snappy jerks and watch results. The line, however, should be the same length as the rod for best results in handling a strike. Slip the little frog out with a twitch of the rod tip and then start working the line as explained above.

A pole of fifteen to seventeen feet is used in this method of fishing. Any old line will do but it has to be strong enough to stand the haul. A frog or "punk" (punk, think) is used as the lure. Let your boat drift alongside the picket line and work the little greenback back and forth with short snappy jerks and watch results. The line, however, should be the same length as the rod for best results in handling a strike. Slip the little frog out with a twitch of the rod tip and then start working the line as explained above.

Skittering for pickerel is quite a sport as the ill of snakes generally hit the lure on the other end of a skittering rod with a rush. Probably they have an idea that if they can't take it that way they won't get it at all and there's no time for them to decide.

HILLTOP SQUAD ENDS FIRST WEEK OF GRID DRILLS

Fifty Candidates for Marquette Eleven Take Part in Intensive Workouts

Lake Menasha—Fifty strong candidates for the 1924 Marquette university football team have completed their first week of training in the island camp here and Coach Frank J. Murray and his assistants now are preparing to buckle down to the final week of camp work.

The Marquette varsity faces the heaviest schedule in its history this year and work in the training camp has been intense. Lombard college will be met in an informal game at Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 27, and this battle will start the season. The first regular game will allow Milwaukeeans to give the Marquette the once-over when St. Mary's college of Winona, Minn., is in Milwaukee, Oct. 4. A week later, the varsity faces the supreme test when it meets the Navy at Annapolis, Md., Oct. 11. The new Marquette stadium will be dedicated at the John Carroll game Oct. 18.

Practice during the last week has been mostly of a preliminary nature, enabling the young athletes to limber up and iron out the kinks. Setting up exercises started each workout, and the rest of the periods were devoted to the fundamental and, later, to a gradual introduction of blocking, tackling and carrying the ball.

Backfield men started light signal work on Thursday and, if the weather is favorable, a light scrimmage probably will be staged Sunday afternoon. No complicated plays have been introduced on the field but at the evening chalk talks, new formations, as well as the simple rules, have been discussed.

Here in camp, things are running smoothly and mentors in charge are well pleased with results thus far. Returning lettermen include: Capt. La Vern Dilweg, Flaherty and Fahay, ends; Lane and Lutz, tackles; Cartwright, Guard; Sullivan, center and guard; Demoling, King, Curtin, Badger, Helmsch, Vallier, Leichtfuss and Skemp, backs.

The list of varsity candidates in camp includes: Capt. Dilweg, Lutz, Leichtfuss, Bortin, Champney, Sullivan, Tim Moran, Art Moran, Corcoran, Hall, Shotola, Sweeney, Tiefenthaler, Regan, W. O'Neill, Billie O'Neill, Donohue, Finke, Kehoe, Gracey, Smith, Zegers, Goral, Griffin, Donnelly, Peeples, Collins, Fahay, Flaherty, Curtin, Cartwright, Lane, Helmsch, Skemp, Bader, Emory, Gauckler, Demoling, Glauder, Vallier, Coogan, McCormick, King, Gavin, Goggins, Crafne, Gerlach, Kub, Hornak and Kimmell.

FOOTBALL NEWS
NEW HAVEN—Felix Silverhash is sure of a place on the varsity. Felix doesn't know an off-tackle plunge from a Greek bath tub, but he has more dizzy blondes on his staff than a scout for the Folies Bergere.

South Bend—Consternation broke out in the ranks of the "Fighting Irish" at Notre Dame when an outlander named Tad Murphy reported for practice. Czeveskie, Grabowski, Ole Jensen, Holtzapfel and Semansky quit the squad in a huff.

Columbia—The Houghton system will be given a new trial this year. It was found guilty on all counts last year, but as Young Leopold said, you can do anything with money.

Princeton—Bill Roper is ready to trade the Tigers' famous war cry "A team that can't be beaten, can't be beaten," for one good smashing half-back and two fairly talented ends. None without previous college experience need apply.

ARTHUR BOND

Columbia, Mo.—When Captain Arthur Bond of University of Missouri took charge of his football team this fall he carried on a tradition that has come to mark Missouri's football captains as premier scholars as well as fighting leaders.

For Missouri has had three Phi Beta Kappa students and one Sigma Xi student, honorary scientific fraternity, at the head of her football teams during the past five years.

Chuck Lewis started the attainment back in 1920, when he made Sigma Xi while captaining the team in his junior year. Sigma Xi is composed of the five best scientific scholars in the university each year.

Following him came Herbert Blum in 1921 and Herbert Bunker in 1922, both of whom made Phi Beta Kappa. Both were all-Missouri Valley men as was also Lewis for two years. And now comes Bond, also a Phi Beta Kappa student, to command the Tiger team.

DODGERS PROFIT WHEN GIANTS BOW TO CARDS, 5 TO 1

One Point Separates New York and Brooklyn in Percentage Column

Brooklyn is suffering from a severe case of pennantitis attended by symptoms of "worlds seriesitis." A high baseball fever accompanied by a swelling of its percentage column is worrying Doctor John J. McGraw who is fighting hard to save the "City of Churches" from a repetition of the malady which was rampant in Flatbush back in the days of 1900, again in 1916 and more recently in 1920.

The relative temperatures of the two teams Saturday, carried out in five figures, is:

Giants .50431. Dodgers .50283. The Dodgers picked up ground Friday by remaining idle while the Giants lost a 5 to 1 decision to the ambitious Cardinals.

The Pirates, who have been tugging frantically at the portals of fame, lapped up a 5 to 4 decision over the Braves, while Chicago bumped off the Phillies, 4 to 1.

But one game was placed on the records in the American league Friday, and that went to St. Louis, 5 to 0, with Cleveland on the zero end.

The eastern teams Saturday all open up their final invasion of the west. Virtually every game in which Washington, Detroit or New York participate will be a crucial contest with the percentage column wavering back and forth as the teams hold up or are crushed by the waves of defeat or victory.

Hernandez, "We grow flowers and give mandolin lessons," she admitted, "but we do not carry the feminist inclination to an extreme."

Bill Melhorn, who used to be a hoddier, is now a golf champion. "But we don't suppose any of the country club sheikhs care to start out that way."

Another reason why we admire the prince is because he refused an invitation to see Albo Goldstein defend the bantamweight title.

APPLETON HIGH ELEVEN PLANS BANNER SEASON

New Band and Cheering Organization Will Add Zest to Grid Contests

Appleton High school gridders are preparing for a banner season this year. There is an enrollment of 1,000 at the school now but next year the new junior high school probably will withdraw a large number of students and therefore the number of grid candidates probably never again will be as great as it is now. More than 60 youngsters are in the field at present, with more than a score waiting for equipment. Jules Kevin, new football coach, is stiffening up his workouts after a week of easy drill and expects to have a strong machine ready for the opening game at Sheboygan on Oct. 4.

Kevin put in two years as end on the LaCrosse Normal squad and last season held down his position as quarterback where he distinguished himself as a strategist.

The candidates have been drilling on Lawrence field up to now, but Monday will go back to their own which they used last season.

It is expected that the high school band will be ready to do its stuff by the time the season opens, and in addition to this a unit of 200 members is being organized to attend to the rooting and cheering.

Only Deluge Can Put Off Polo Opener

New York—The thrice postponed opening game of the international polo series will be played Saturday at 4 o'clock regardless of weather conditions except a heavy downpour of rain at game time, according to an announcement by the United States Polo association which is sponsoring the tournament.

Three games will comprise the series, even though the first two may decide whether the cup, emblematic of the championship now held by the Meadowbrook club team for the United States, shall return to England with the British team. The second game will be played Tuesday and the third next Saturday.

Rain, which caused the postponement of the opening game since a week ago, the original date, has been held to the British team for in that interval Louis Lacey, captain and back of the British team, has recovered from an attack of shingles.

Devereux Milburn, one of the world's greatest polo players, will captain the American team, which includes Thomas Lithcock, Jr., another great player.

KAUKAUNA LEGION PUTS STRONG GRID LINEUP IN FIELD

All of Last Season's Veterans Report for Duty and Are Eager for Battle

Kaukauna—Kaukauna Post No. 41, of the American Legion, wishes to announce that it will have a football team in the field.

The Legion has established a state wide reputation with its football team, having piloted the state amateur champions for the past four seasons. All of the old regulars will be back and have reported, and are "rarin' to go," and an abundance of new material has reported for the first practice. With 40 men to select from the Legion expects to put a real team on the gridiron.

The old regulars who have reported are Capt. Rennieke, the Brenzel brothers, Olm brothers, Engerson brothers, Ott Metz, McCormack, Schrader, Reardon, Meres, Spindler, and Robinson brothers. Les Smith will be back with his educated toe. Les played in the backfield two years ago, but was not in the lineup last year. His presence this year will naturally strengthen the kicking department. Les is a fast back and a dangerous man on either end of a forward pass.

The new men should develop into real players and give the Legion a wonderful lineup of stars.

Manager Ed Rennieke is at work on a schedule of games and within a few weeks will have an announcement ready. Manitowish and Milwaukee have written for games and undoubtedly will be accommodated. The Legion is looking forward to a busy season, and the support of the fans will be necessary.

British Have Small Chance To Win Trophy

Garden City, N. Y.—British golfers seeking to win the Walker cup from American golfers had a difficult task for the second day of the competition at the Garden City Golf club Saturday.

As the result of the Americans winning three out of four foursomes Friday, the British must win at least five of the eight singles on Saturday's program and halve another match in order to lift the cup. The winning of only five matches by the invaders would leave the score of the competition six all, and a tie would make the third British effort to win the cup unsuccessful like the previous two.

Jack Zwick Will Battle Al Russell

Menominee—Jack Zwick, the Kaukauna boxer with the Babe Ruth wallop, and Al Russell, who can hit some himself, were matched on Tuesday to box in one of the preliminary events at the Cream City A. C. show at the Auditorium, Sept. 22. The two sluggers are billed to go eight rounds and the weight agreed upon is 148 pounds at 3.

Zwick and Russell were matched recently to box before the Metropolitan A. C. on the South side but the show was called off.

Frank Mulken, matchmaker for the Auditorium club, announced Tuesday that he planned to stage one ten round, two eight-rounders and a four-round curtain raiser as his opening program. It is likely that Al Wolgast, Michigan Bearcat the Second will box in the semi. Mulken hoped to close the match Wednesday.

POST-CRESCENTS BEAT MEYER CLUB

Newsman Easily Cop 12 to 6 Victory from Pressmen in Six Innings

Post-Crescents of the City Twilight Baseball league Friday afternoon took the Meyer Press to a 12 to 6 cleaning in a six-inning contest at Jones park. The game was slow because the grounds were wet and slippery, but the pitchers did excellent work. Fleeting was handicapped by the mud.

Westland of the Meyer Press crashed out a homerun in the fifth with one on, but the Post-Crescents piled up five tallies in their half of the inning to offset the feat. The Meyer Press got off to a good start when they copped a run in the initial stanza while they held the Post-Crescents scoreless, but the Printers copped three in the second and again in the third and from that time on took things easy.

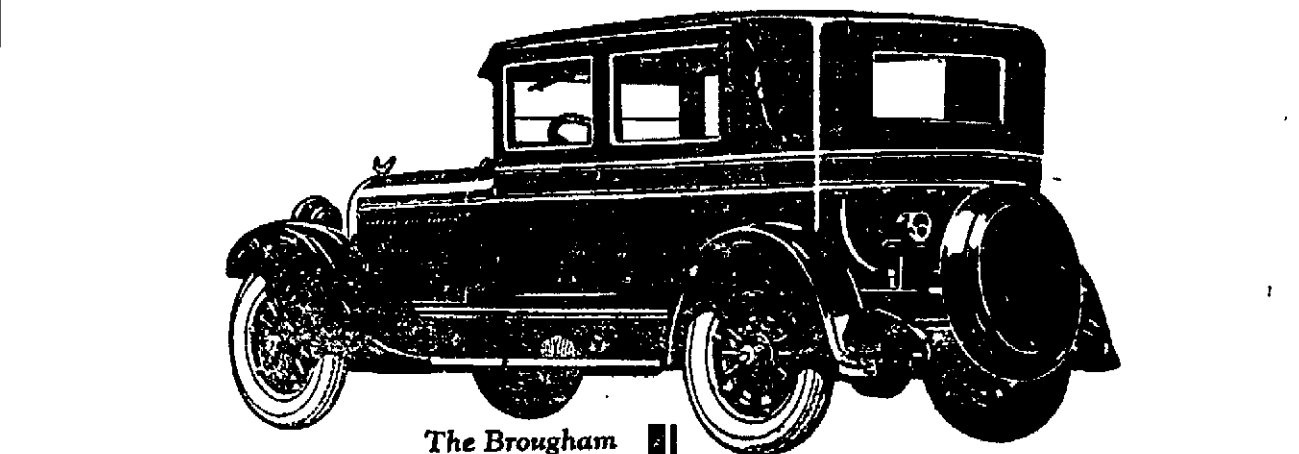

Batteries: Meyer Press—Sticks, Colvin and Bayer; Post-Crescents—Wagner and Bentle.

Score by innings:
Meyer Press 111 021-6

Unequaled Results With Unexampled Economy

Every one who drives the Chrysler Six is moved to wonder at the ease with which it rides and drives under all conditions. Unusually low center of gravity and scientific weight distribution enable it to hold the road with the tenacity of a two-ton car; a new practice in spring suspension eliminates side-sway, even when making a turn at 50 miles an hour. Chrysler-locked hydraulic four-wheel brakes contribute vastly to these driving and riding qualities and add an extra degree of safety. Special design six-ply, high-speed balloon tires are standard.

You get better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—in itself an achievement for a car that can travel over 70 miles an hour. But this is not the whole economy story.

The oil-filter automatically cleanses all the oil in the crankcase every 25 miles; the air-cleaner prevents the entry of dust and dirt through the carburetor; the crankshaft revolves in seven bearings instead of three or five, thus preventing destructive engine vibration.

These are some of the contributing factors to motoring results that are revolutionary—not only in themselves, but in the lower costs at which they are obtained.

You cannot grasp their full importance until you drive the Chrysler Six yourself.

That's good enough advice—but it does seem to over- look the needs of the individual who wants to get many things done.

Such an individual regularly read the A-B-C Classified Section of the Post-Crescent because—

Here is a place where one can do one thing at a time and still do many things in a minute!
